A very special meeting!

Now that vacation season is over, the time is right to get back to business. On October 21st we will present a very special meeting that will be both informational and fun.

Meeting at the LeMay Museum of Automobiles' Spanaway campus, we'll get a private tour of the world's largest car and motorcycle collection. Leave work a little early and make sure to bring your employees, family, friends, and camera.

The meeting to follow will bring the Connections convention home for those that did not make the trip, including tips learned and innovative new products presented by the people that were there. What happens in Vegas comes home with us!
